VOL. X. NO. 4082

HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1908

PRICE 5 CENTS

Farrington, Honolulu

Territories hereafter Six Delegates.

Chicago, Ill., June 18, 1908

Robertson.

This cablegram received from National Committeeman Robertson means that Hawaii has won its fight for a representation of six delegates in the National Republican Convention. In the call for the convention Hawaii with the other Territories was granted only two delegates, whereupon Hawaii with Arizona and New Mexico immediately began a contest for a larger representation. It was taken up by Delegate Kuhio among Washington leaders and under the leadership of Robertson has been the Hawaii issue before the convention. Hawaii wins.

SEC. TAFT RESIGNS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—Taft has resigned from his position as Secretary of War, his resignation to take effect June 30. Luke Wright, who was formerly Governor of the Philippines, succeeding Taft in that position, has been appointed by the President as Secretary of War. Taft left this afternoon for Cincinnati to confer with Sherman. Congratulatory messages are pouring in.

Hawaii Delegation Voted For Sherman

CHICAGO, Ill., June 19.—The vote of the convention has been made unanimous. The delegation from Hawaii voted for Sherman. After a hasty conference of the Secretary Taft forces, which was held after the convention had assembled, Sherman was decided upon for Vice President. The sweltering heat which prevailed had the effect of making the attendance at the convention smaller than before, and the session lasted less than two hours.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 19.—The Republican National Convention ended its labors at an early hour this forenoon by nominating Congressman James S. Sherman of New York as Vice President on the Taft ticket. The nomination was made on the first ballot by the following vote: Sherman 816, Murphy 77, Guild 75, Fairbanks 1, Sheldon 1, Absent 1. Immediately the nomination of Sherman was recorded, the convention adjourned with the usual cheering and demonstration of tired delegates.

The Congressional Directory gives Congressman Sherman's record as follows: James Schoolcraft Sherman, Republican, of Utica, was born in Utica, N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855; received an academic and collegiate education, graduating from Hamilton College in the class of 1878; was admitted to the bar in 1880; a practicing lawyer; also president of the Utica Trust and Deposit Company and president of the New Hartford Canning Company; has served in these public positions: Mayor of Utica, 1884; delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1892; chairman New York State Republican Con-

Correct Criticism Is Needed, Says Garfield

"What we want is constructive criticism; not destructive." Greeted with tremendous applause, Secretary of the Interior Garfield thus summed up the substance of his speech today, at noon, in the course of a luncheon given in his honor at the Commercial Club. A large crowd assembled in the rooms of the club to hear the Secretary say a few informal words.

Governor Frear arose to introduce Mr. Garfield, saying: "Gentlemen, for the second time in its history, the Commercial Club has the honor to entertain a Cabinet officer. This time it is one with whom the Territory comes most intimately into contact, the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Garfield."

Mr. Garfield immediately arose, and in response to the mention of his name, said: "It is true that the Territory does come into close contact with the Secretary of the Interior, and I for one want to bring it into still closer contact. My purpose is to secure at first hand information of conditions here. While the Department of the Interior is perhaps not in direct control of many matters of the Territory, they come through the Secretary, and go to other departments, so that he is the medium of exchange. Therefore, my intention is to get as much information as possible upon conditions in the Islands."

"It is gratifying to find conditions of harmony among the various associations and bodies of the Islands. It is easy to see that you are working with co-operation, and what we want is co-operation. During these quiet days which I have spent here, there have been a great number of things which have interested me greatly. I have been collecting information on schools, your racial problems, the questions which arise in connection with your harbors, and the like."

"I am now starting on a tour to inform myself in a general way on the conditions in other Islands. Already I have seen much on Oahu. Not only have I met and want to meet men with large interests, large holdings of lands, large moneyed enterprises, but also men who are doing business in a small way, and making homes. We must recognize that no set of men can control things in

ST. LOUIS SENDS WIRELESS TO MAINE

Due At 7 o'clock This Evening—Wants Coal And Water

At 10 o'clock this morning the battleship Maine received a wireless message from the cruiser St. Louis, 100 miles out. The incoming cruiser and the big warship at the Alakea dock talked for some time, getting things ready for the time when the former will make port, this evening, if all goes well.

At the time she talked, she said she expected to make port at 7 o'clock this evening, which is three hours later than she wanted to do when she flashed the message day before yesterday, which was caught at the Kahuku Point station. She told the amount of coal and water she wanted, with the request that the information be given over to Captain Rees, the commandant at the Naval Station.

VETERINARY LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

In an opinion handed down by the Supreme Court this morning, the statute regulating the practice of veterinary surgeons and requiring them to be licensed, which is applicable only to towns and suburbs with a population of over 5000 inhabitants, is declared unconstitutional and void.

The case is that of the Territory of Hawaii against John H. Pottle, who appealed from a decision of the District Magistrate of Honolulu, convicting him of practicing veterinary medicine without a license. Pottle claimed that the act under which he was convicted was unconstitutional, in that it violates Section 1 of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution by discriminating against persons engaged in the same business.

The British collier Bucrania, Captain H. Tuley, arrived off port late last evening, with 4850 tons of coal for the big fleet. She came in to the naval dock, and is today awaiting instructions as to what to do with her cargo.

Mrs. W. S. Ward and the Misses E. Ward, A. Ward and W. S. Ward were among the Mauna Kea arrivals today from a pleasure trip.

Garfield Says 'Good'

"Taft and Sherman—a good combination—strong men, both of them, and they are what we have been working for. Personally, I am highly pleased over the results of the convention. I expected Taft would be nominated on the first ballot, of course, but, on account of the fact that I had not kept closely in touch with that part of the running, I really did not care to say anything concerning the man selected on the ticket for the Vice Presidency. However, I am sure that Sherman is a good man for the place, and I only regret that we will lose him in Congress, where, as chairman of the Committee on Indian Affairs, he did excellent work for the western part of the country. I am highly pleased with the nominations."

SECRETARY JAMES R. GARFIELD.

New Land Laws Are Suggested To Garfield

Secretary Garfield was kept busy this morning receiving callers in the Executive chambers. The most important was the delegation of citizens who called to see the Secretary regarding land matters. Those who constituted this committee were as follows: L. L. McCandless, Judge Kaulahou, Ed. Ingham, John Emmeluth, and Allan Herbert.

Link McCandless, Ed. Ingham, and John Emmeluth all made brief statements in which they quoted instances in which the land law had been made use of to the disadvantage of the people of the Territory at large, according to their ideas. They mentioned the Lunal, Kapa, and the Baldwin Maui land matters.

"Mr. Garfield suggested that we suggest what we thought ought to be done," said McCandless after the meeting, "and we will forthwith draft a land law which we think will be applicable to the Territory, and which we will present to him shortly."

The petition of the Democrats began by quoting Roosevelt's famous message: "In Hawaii our aim must be to develop the Territory on the traditional American lines." It then goes on to show that while at the time of Captain Cook the Islands supported 400,000 people, that they now only support 154,000 of which 85,000 are Asiatics, and that many former residents Americans sought escape from the conditions here thereby putting Americanism here almost beyond the pale of probability. Judge Dole's views on the land system are quoted, as well as the Democratic party platform. The petition then goes on as follows:

"We trust that, if in your brief stay here you should decide to make a tour of the different islands of this group, you will be mindful of the quoted extract from the Presidential message when you survey the large sugar estates that flourish here. We apprehend that you will everywhere discover how far removed our local conditions are from what is contemplated in the portion of the message cited and that you will not fail to appreciate that the control by corporations of large areas of land and water privileges is a positive menace to the building up of an untrammeled electorate in this Territory."

You will find that these large cane-growing areas are tilled, and the mills in which the cane raised on them is treated, are manned almost exclusively by alien laborers, chiefly Asiatic. In
